

Cable tray weld manufacturers

Article Overview

Leading manufacturers of cable tray welding equipment include DAPU, EAE Electric, and specialized German producers like WDM Deutenberg, offering both machinery and pre-welded cable tray systems.

Cable Tray Welding Machines

DAPU produces specialized cable tray mesh welding machines, such as the DP-FP-1000A+, designed for small- to medium-scale production. These pneumatic welding machines are highly efficient, durable, and customizable to client specifications, making them suitable for infrastructure projects, data centers, hospitals, airports, and industrial facilities. DAPU also provides full production lines, operation guides, and maintenance manuals for cable tray mesh manufacturing .

Cable Tray Systems Manufacturers

EAE Electric manufactures heavy-duty cable trays and ladders using pre-galvanized, hot-dipped galvanized, or stainless steel. Their products are produced on fully automated roll-forming lines with robotic welding systems, ensuring high structural durability and reliability in demanding environments. They offer standard 3-meter lengths, with options for 6-meter lengths, and cater to high-density cabling projects in offices, hospitals, and large buildings . Mulder-Hardenberg specializes in wire cable tray systems, including mesh trays for industrial automation, data centers, and server rooms. Their DEFEM wire cable tray system is corrosion-resistant, easy to clean, and certified by DNV, providing flexibility and cost efficiency for complex installations
