

Canadian Electrical Distribution Box Brand Manufacturer

Article Overview

Leading Canadian manufacturers of electrical distribution boxes include STA Boxes, Iberville (ABB Electrification Canada), and MDL Electrical Inc., offering CSA-certified, durable, and customizable enclosures.

STA Boxes

STA Boxes is a Canadian manufacturer specializing in rugged, reliable distribution enclosures for industrial, commercial, and institutional applications. They offer custom-built solutions tailored to specific technical requirements, with strict compliance to CSA standards. Their products are designed for durability in harsh conditions, and the company provides dedicated technical support from quote to delivery, ensuring safety and performance in electrical installations .

Iberville (ABB Electrification Canada)

Iberville, part of ABB Electrification Canada, has been a cornerstone of the Canadian electrical industry since 1920. Their products are designed and manufactured in Saint-Jean-sur-Richelieu, Quebec, using locally sourced materials. Iberville offers a comprehensive range of over 180 types of electrical boxes and accessories, including weatherproof FS boxes, LHTQ device boxes for residential use, and commercial-grade fittings. All products meet the Canadian Electrical Code and are engineered for reliability in Canadian climates
