

Customized Composite Cable Trays from Major Manufacturers

Article Overview

Leading manufacturers of custom composite cable trays include CREO Composites, Ebo Systems, Enduro Composites, EFG Composites, and Oglaend System Group, offering FRP/GRP solutions for harsh and industrial environments.

Key Manufacturers

CREO Composites produces the EDGE TRAY line of FRP cable trays, designed for high corrosion resistance, fire-retardancy, and modular customization. Their trays use orthophthalic, vinyl ester, or phenolic resins to meet specific environmental and fire safety requirements. Ebo Systems, part of the Niedax Group, specializes in GRP cable trays with exceptional strength and durability. They offer continuous pultrusion and hot pressing manufacturing methods, serving sectors like energy, transportation, chemical, and water industries across 27 countries. Enduro Composites provides fiberglass-reinforced trays for utilities, transportation, and coastal installations. Their products are known for high dielectric properties, corrosion resistance, and suitability for high-voltage applications. EFG Composites manufactures ladder and perforated type GRP/FRP cable trays using polyester and vinylester resins. Their trays include a wide range of fittings and accessories, designed for chemical plants, power plants, and industrial facilities requiring corrosion-resistant solutions. Oglaend System Group is a global leader supplying composite cable management solutions to oil & gas, marine, and industrial sectors. Their fiberglass trays are engineered for extreme conditions, offering fire retardancy and reduced maintenance in harsh environments.
