

Displacement-type optical attenuator manufacturers

Article Overview

Several specialized companies manufacture displacement-type optical attenuators, including Eastern European and global suppliers.

Eastern European Manufacturers

- KROMBACH FREIBURG: A medium-sized company specializing in industrial precision optics, offering development of custom solutions and technical concepts in fiber optic technology, including displacement-type optical attenuators .
- ORAFOL Fresnel Optics GmbH: Based in Apolda, Thuringia, this company focuses on microstructured optical components and may provide related optical attenuation solutions .
- AVARGO Konrad Rutkowski: An authorized distributor and partner of RayTools AG in Poland and Europe, offering fiber optic solutions and optical components suitable for displacement-type attenuators .

Global and European Suppliers

- Edmund Optics® (EO): Headquartered in the USA, EO manufactures and distributes precision optics, optical assemblies, and imaging components, including variable and fixed optical attenuators .
- VIAVI Solutions Inc.: Offers a complete range of optical attenuators for singlemode and multimode fibers, including compact, rugged, and high-resolution devices suitable for lab, field, and production environments
