

Fiber Optic Cable Connector Price

Article Overview

Fiber optic cable connectors typically range from $1 to $15 per unit, depending on type, mode, and quantity.

Price Overview

- Retail Prices: On platforms like Amazon, individual fiber optic connectors such as LC, SC, or ST types generally cost $1 to $5 per connector for single units, while pre-assembled adapters or packs (e.g., 12-pack SC/APC connectors) can range from $10 to $20 depending on the mode and quality .
- Wholesale Prices: Suppliers like CableWholesale offer bulk pricing, which can reduce the cost to $0.50 to $3 per connector when purchased in larger quantities .
- Specialty Connectors: High-performance or single-mode connectors (e.g., APC, MPO, or MT-RJ) may cost $5 to $15 per unit due to precision manufacturing and alignment requirements .

Factors Affecting Price

- Connector Type: LC, SC, ST, MPO, and MT-RJ connectors vary in complexity and cost. MPO and MT-RJ are generally more expensive due to multi-fiber alignment.
- Mode: Single-mode connectors are typically pricier than multimode connectors because of tighter tolerances.
- Quantity: Bulk purchases significantly reduce per-unit cost.
- Brand and Quality: Premium brands like Amphenol, Broadcom, and TE Connectivity may charge higher prices for reliability and performance .
- Accessories: Some connectors come with adapters, couplers, or pre-polished ferrules, which can increase the price....
