Article Overview

Key Finnish manufacturers of power distribution boxes include Fibox, UTU Group, KK-Sähkötukku Oy, and Norelco, all offering high-quality, Nordic-designed electrical enclosures and distribution systems.

Fibox

Fibox, headquartered in Finland since 1966, is a global leader in enclosure solutions. They specialize in modular plastic and aluminum enclosures for low-voltage power distribution panels, control systems, and electronic devices. Fibox pioneered the first modular injection-molded polycarbonate enclosures, combining durability with Nordic design simplicity. Their products are designed to withstand harsh environments and are used in applications ranging from industrial automation to EV charging systems .

UTU Group

UTU Group is a family-owned Finnish company founded in 1919, producing a wide range of electrical distribution solutions. Their offerings include standardized ready-made distribution boards, construction site and temporary distribution boxes, main distribution boards, consumer units, multi-meter panels, EV charging distribution boards, and outdoor boards. UTU manufactures these products in Finland, ensuring high quality and energy efficiency, suitable for demanding Arctic conditions. They also provide complementary products from global partners like Hager and Socomec
