

How to locate fiber optic splice boxes

Article Overview

Fiber optic splice boxes can be purchased from specialized distributors like EFB-Elektronik, Phoenix Contact, Amphenol Network Solutions, LAPP, and general online retailers such as Amazon.

Specialized Distributors

- EFB-Elektronik offers a wide range of fiber splice boxes and distribution boxes, including pre-assembled and customizable options. Their products include splice cassettes for secure fiber management and connectors for signal transmission. They also provide technical consultation and fast delivery for structured IT cabling projects .
- Phoenix Contact provides compact, rail-mountable splice boxes suitable for DIN rail and 19" mounting. These boxes are designed for reliable real-time data transmission and feature IP20 protection, metal housings, and multiple cable outlet options .
- Amphenol Network Solutions offers the FSB series of indoor wall-mount enclosures, ideal for high-density splice storage in commercial, residential, and distributed antenna system applications. These enclosures support both ribbon and single fiber splicing, with modular cable port accessories and integrated storage for loose tubes .
- LAPP Online Shop supplies splice boxes that protect spliced fibers, facilitate maintenance, and provide organized cable routing. Their products are designed for secure fiber distribution and include space for splice protection devices .

Online Retailers

- Amazon carries a variety of fiber splice enclosures suitable for different applicatio...
