

Indoor fiber optic cable line price

Article Overview

Indoor fiber optic cables typically cost between $0.55 and $3.10 per foot installed, depending on fiber type, jacket material, and cable structure.

Material Costs

The base cost of indoor fiber optic cable varies by fiber type and design:

- Single-core or simplex cables for short interconnects: $0.55–$0.95 per foot for materials .
- Multi-core distribution or breakout cables for higher density or easy termination: $1.00–$3.00 per foot, depending on fiber count and type (OM3, OM4, OM5, G652D, G657A2), .
- Jacket material affects cost: LSZH (Low Smoke Zero Halogen) is standard for fire safety and eco-friendliness, while TPU (Thermoplastic Polyurethane) offers higher flexibility and mechanical strength at slightly higher prices . Bulk purchases reduce per-foot costs significantly. For example, a 10,000-foot reel can be ~20% cheaper than a 1,000-foot reel .

Installation Costs

Indoor installation costs include labor, conduit, and termination:

- Plenum ceiling or riser installations: $0.80–$1.70 per foot for materials, with installed costs ranging $1.90–$3.10 per foot .
- Labor is a major component, especially for precise splicing and routing through w...
