

Mobile power distribution box level 3

Article Overview

A Mobile Level 3 Power Distribution Box is a rugged, portable unit designed to safely distribute high-capacity electrical power in temporary or mobile applications, with adjustable outputs, multiple circuit breakers, and compliance with industrial safety standards.

Overview

Mobile Level 3 Power Distribution Boxes are engineered for temporary, high-demand power distribution in environments such as construction sites, live events, industrial operations, and military applications . They are designed to handle high amperage loads, typically ranging from 20 to 800 Amps, and support multiple voltage configurations, including 120/208 VAC and 600Y/480 VAC . These units are portable, often featuring rolling racks, side handles, or towable designs for easy transport and deployment .

Key Features

- Adjustable Circuit Breakers: Many units, such as the Load Master™ Series, include 1, 3, or 4 adjustable breakers to match specific load requirements .
- Multiple Outlets: Configurations may include NEMA 5-20, L21-20, L21-30, and CAM-type receptacles to accommodate diverse equipment .
- Rugged Construction: Housings are built to withstand harsh environments, with raised edges to protect outlets and breakers from physical damage .
- Compliance and Safety: Units are certified to cULus standards and UL 1640, ensuring safe operation in industrial and outdoor settings
