

Places selling fiber optic cables in Jamaica

Article Overview

Jamaica offers a variety of fiber optic cables through multiple suppliers, supporting telecommunications, IT, and industrial applications.

Suppliers and Companies

Jamaica has several companies involved in the sale, installation, and maintenance of fiber optic cables. Key players include Zantel Powercom, which provides end-to-end voice, data networking, and power solutions, and TELiCON Group, offering fiber optic network design, installation, and IT infrastructure services . Other notable providers include FLOW (formerly Cable & Wireless) and Digicel, both of which have invested heavily in expanding fiber optic networks across the island . These companies supply both single-mode and multi-mode fiber, as well as glass and plastic fiber types, catering to diverse applications.

Market and Applications

The Jamaican fiber optic cable market serves multiple sectors, including telecommunications, networking, IT and data centers, broadcast, power utilities, medical, and industrial applications . The market is growing due to increasing demand for high-speed internet, reliable data transmission, and digital infrastructure expansion. Fiber optics are preferred over traditional copper cables because they transmit data via light, offering higher speeds, greater bandwidth, and improved reliability .
