

Price of Cable Tray Distribution Box Cover Plate

Article Overview

The price of a cable tray distribution box cover plate varies widely depending on size, material, and manufacturer, typically ranging from $10 to $100 or more per unit.

Overview

Cable tray cover plates are used to enclose and protect cables within a cable tray system, preventing dust, moisture, and mechanical damage while allowing easy access for maintenance. They are available in solid, ventilated, or wire mesh designs and are compatible with different tray types such as ladder, solid-bottom, or ventilated trays .

Factors Affecting Price

- Material: Covers are commonly made from steel, aluminum, or plastic. Steel covers with corrosion-resistant coatings are more expensive than plastic or basic aluminum covers .
- Size and Dimensions: Widths typically range from 4 to 12 inches, with lengths around 5 feet. Larger or custom-sized covers cost more .
- Design Features: Hinged covers, snap-on designs, or screwless clamps for quick installation can increase the price .
- Brand and Certification: Products from well-known brands like Legrand, Schneider Electric, or Kable Kontrol may carry a premium, especially if UL-listed or compliant with international standards
