Article Overview

Finished supports for cable tray bends typically range from $10 to $50 per unit, depending on material, size, and supplier.

Overview

Finished supports for cable tray bends are essential components that secure and maintain the structural integrity of cable trays at corners, curves, or directional changes. These supports are commonly used in industrial, commercial, and residential electrical installations to ensure safe and organized cable routing . They are compatible with various types of cable trays, including ladder, solid-bottom, and wire mesh designs .

Material and Pricing Factors

The price of finished supports depends on several factors:

- Material: Galvanized steel, stainless steel, aluminum, and PVC are commonly used. Galvanized steel is cost-effective and corrosion-resistant, stainless steel offers superior durability, aluminum is lightweight, and PVC is ideal for wet or chemically aggressive environments .
- Size and Load Capacity: Larger supports or those designed for heavy cable loads cost more.
- Finish: Hot-dipped galvanization or special coatings increase durability and price
