

Price of Stainless Steel Mesh Cable Trays

Article Overview

Custom stainless steel mesh cable trays typically range from $0.75/m for bulk orders to $100/m for premium, small-scale or specialized configurations.

Pricing Overview

The cost of custom stainless steel wire mesh cable trays depends on several factors including material grade (304 vs 316 stainless steel), tray dimensions, mesh wire diameter, customization complexity, and order volume. For large-scale bulk orders, Chinese manufacturers like Hebei Saiyang offer entry prices as low as $0.75 per meter for 5000m orders, with tiered discounts of 15–70% for orders exceeding 1000m . In contrast, US-based suppliers targeting premium segments charge $30–$100 per meter, reflecting higher compliance standards, quality assurance, and smaller minimum order quantities .

Factors Affecting Price

- Material Grade: 316 stainless steel is preferred for corrosive environments and costs more than 304 stainless steel .
- Tray Dimensions: Widths typically range from 200–500 mm, heights from 50–200 mm, and lengths from 300–3000 mm . Larger or custom-shaped trays increase cost.
- Customization: Bends, curves, tees, and optional covers add to fabrication costs .
- Load Capacity and Wire Diameter: Heavier-duty trays with thicker wires (up to 6 mm) or higher load ratings are more expensive .
- Order Volume: Bulk orders significantly reduce per-meter cost, while small-scale or specialized orders increase unit price
