

Price of a good outdoor power distribution box

Article Overview

Outdoor power distribution boxes typically cost between $1,500 and $6,000, depending on amperage, materials, and installation complexity.

Typical Price Ranges

- Residential outdoor panels (100-125A): Around $1,200-$2,500 including parts and labor .
- Higher-capacity outdoor panels (200A) with new meter socket: $3,000-$6,000 .
- Weatherproof or heavy-duty enclosures: Premium pricing applies due to durability and environmental protection .

Factors Affecting Cost

- Amperage and Capacity: Higher amperage panels and multi-circuit systems cost more due to larger breakers and wiring requirements .
- Material and Construction: Metal enclosures are more durable and expensive than plastic; outdoor-rated boxes require weatherproofing and corrosion resistance .
- Installation Complexity: Labor costs vary based on wiring length, conduit routing, and whether a new circuit or meter socket is needed. Typical electrician rates range from $75-$120 per hour, with total labor often 6-18 hours .
- Permits and Code Compliance: Local permits and adherence to electrical codes can add 5-15% to the total cost, especially in urban areas .
- Additional Features: Smart monitoring, load management, or integration with building systems can increase upfront costs but may provide long-term energy savi...
