

Ranking of Flame-Retardant Cable Tray Manufacturers

Article Overview

Top flame-retardant cable tray brands include ALOIS Composites, Oglaend System Group, Enduro Composites, Flamro, and West Port, recognized for fire resistance, durability, and industrial reliability.

Leading Brands and Their Strengths

1. ALOIS Composites A European leader in fiberglass-reinforced cable trays, ALOIS Composites is known for high-quality pultruded profiles that combine superior strength with minimal weight, making them ideal for chemical plants, offshore platforms, and power utilities. Their trays are engineered for corrosive and high-temperature environments, ensuring fire safety and long-term durability . 2. Oglaend System Group A global player with decades of experience, Oglaend System Group supplies fire-retardant composite trays to oil & gas, marine, and industrial sectors across 50+ countries. Their products offer exceptional corrosion resistance and flame retardancy, reducing maintenance downtime in harsh environments . 3. Enduro Composites Dominating the North American market, Enduro Composites provides fiberglass-reinforced trays with high dielectric properties and strength-to-weight ratios, suitable for high-voltage applications and coastal installations where fire and corrosion risks are significant . 4. Flamro Flamro specializes in fire protection coatings and tapes for cables and trays, including FLAMMOTECT-A and DG-CR 0.7. These solutions prevent flame propagation, enhance environmental resistance, and are widely used in hospitals, airports, industrial plants, and nuclear facilities . 5. West Port Based in the UAE, West Port manufactures fire-resistant cable trays and access...
