

Swedish company making industrial switches

Article Overview

Westermo, Hatteland Technology, and Turck are leading Swedish companies specializing in industrial switches for harsh and critical environments.

Key Swedish Manufacturers

Westermo Westermo specializes in industrial Ethernet switches designed for extreme and demanding environments. Their product range includes unmanaged, managed layer 2, and layer 3 switches, as well as specialized switches for sectors like rail, energy, water, and industrial automation. Westermo switches are known for robustness, reliability, and compliance with standards such as EN 50155 for trains and IEC 61850-3 for substations, making them suitable for mission-critical industrial networks . Hatteland Technology Hatteland Technology offers a broad portfolio of industrial Ethernet switches, including managed, unmanaged, Gigabit, PoE, IEC 61850-certified, EN50155-certified, and rackmount switches. Their products emphasize industrial-grade reliability, network redundancy, and integrated security, providing a strong price-to-performance ratio for various industrial applications . Turck Sweden Turck provides industrial switches with protection classes IP67 for field or machine mounting and IP20 for control cabinet installation. They offer both unmanaged devices for standard applications and managed devices for more demanding industrial installations, ensuring flexibility for different network requirements .
