

Taiwan Fiber Optic Communication Blowing Cable Manufacturer

Article Overview

Taiwan hosts several leading fiber optic cable manufacturers, including FiTek, Optech, and UFOC, offering solutions for FTTH, data centers, and cable blowing applications.

Key Manufacturers

1. FiTek FiTek, founded in 1999 and headquartered in Taoyuan, Taiwan, specializes in indoor optical fiber cables and patch cords. They provide custom solutions for FTTH, data centers, anti-rodent cables, elevator communication, and military applications. FiTek emphasizes R&D, patented products, and technical support, offering comprehensive services from design to installation, including invisible fiber cabling systems for seamless indoor deployment . 2. Optech Optech develops and manufactures optical transceivers, direct attach cables (DAC), active optical cables (AOC), fiber patch cords, and Mux/Demux solutions. Their products support data center and telecom networks, are RoHS compliant, and come with lifetime warranties. Optech provides fast lead times, full inventory, and global support for high-speed communication applications . 3. UFOC (United Fiber Optic Communication Co., Ltd.) UFOC is Taiwan's first qualified professional fiber optic manufacturer, producing fiber optic cables and transmission system equipment. They focus on high-quality broadband network solutions and have expanded into international markets, offering total communication network solutions including system integration and advanced fiber optic applications . 4. ACON Optics ACON specializes in fiber optic components and interconnect solutions, including customized patch cords and singl...
