

What are some fireproof cable tray companies in Brazil

Article Overview

Steel and stainless steel cable trays are the preferred fireproof options in Brazil, with Eletropoll being a leading local manufacturer offering high-quality, certified solutions.

Recommended Materials

Steel and stainless steel are the most commonly used fire-resistant materials for cable trays in high-risk environments such as data centers, hospitals, and high-rise buildings due to their strength, durability, and ability to withstand high temperatures without structural failure . Fiber-reinforced plastics and composites are emerging for niche applications where insulation, flexibility, and environmental resistance are required, but steel remains the standard for fire safety .

Leading Manufacturers in Brazil

Eletropoll is a prominent Brazilian manufacturer offering cable trays with ISO 9001 certification and advanced features such as hot-dip galvanization for enhanced corrosion resistance and mechanical strength . Their structural trays with 360° ferrule and Quick Joint system provide faster installation and superior durability, making them suitable for fire-sensitive installations . Other regional manufacturers may include suppliers adhering to NBR and IEC standards, ensuring compliance with local fire safety regulations .
